

FACILITIES MANAGEMENT

AT COLORADO STATE UNIVERSITY

FM DAILY
COMMUNICATION

May 18, 2020

Issue 32

Greetings Facilities Management Team,

Over the next few weeks, some research functions will begin to return to campus. It is important to remember that returning staff will have anxiety related to the prevention of spreading COVID-19 in the work environment. As such, I would like to remind everyone that Facilities Management in particular is in the public eye. Therefore, we will continue to take the lead by proudly setting a visual example for others regarding COVID-19 prevention within the CSU community. As we all know by now, this includes frequent hand-washing, wearing face coverings, and social distancing.

With the return of research staff, FM will assess the need to return some FM staff to essential in-person status to ensure maintenance support of research functions. FM will continue to provide high quality services for ensuring building systems operate correctly, are well cleaned, and all high touch surfaces are regularly sanitized.

Please refer to all the resources that were shared earlier this spring regarding COVID-19 prevention best practices and other facts:

- <https://safety.colostate.edu/coronavirus/>
- Stop the Spread of Germs poster / Evite la propagacion de germenés
- Exposure to COVID-19
- Soap for 20 poster / Jabón para 20

These are also located under the Resources section on the FM Daily Communication webpage.

“Being a role model is the most powerful form of educating.” — John Wooden

Sincerely,

Tom Satterly, P.E.
Associate Vice President for Facilities Management

<https://www.fm.colostate.edu/fmDaily>
fac\_news@mail.colostate.edu