FACILITIES MANAGEMENT

AT COLORADO STATE UNIVERSITY

FM DAILY
COMMUNICATION

Issue 45

Dear Facilities Management Team,

Early this spring an FM Search Committee began the process of reviewing candidates for the position of Asset Manager. Falling within the FM section of Operations, this position was newly created in anticipation of the AiM launch this July. Please welcome Jackie Robledo who accepted this role and joined our FM team just this week. Jackie moved from Illinois where she previously worked for the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, in the position of Preventive Maintenance Manager. In that role, she managed the identification and maintenance of over 40,000 facility assets and the development of their Preventive Maintenance Program for 13 years. As the Asset Manager for FM, she will develop and support a department-wide asset program in the AiM Asset Management database. This will include developing processes for uploading and maintaining FM assets; supporting business continuity from new project inception, design, and construction; commissioning and transitioning these projects to operations and maintenance; and establishing program priorities and Key Performance Indicator (KPI) measurements.

Becoming familiar with our team of more than 600 employees will take time, especially with social distancing in place and many employees working remotely. While Jackie is looking forward to getting to know the talented individuals within FM, in the meantime, she was willing to communicate a few details about herself here to help you all get to know her. In her words, she shares, "I was born in Grants Pass, Oregon but grew up in Central Illinois. I have 2 adult children and a 13-year-old golden retriever. I have traveled to Colorado annually for the past 20 years to visit family and hike. The west and the mountains feel like home. I am ambidextrous, but write as a lefty, and I love coffee." Please welcome Jackie to her new role within Facilities Management.

Sincerely,

Tom Satterly, P.E.
Associate Vice President for Facilities Management
